

Gun mount in the back of the truck, constructed out of an old oxygen tank. It is rusted, hard to move, and is not centered in the bed of the truck, making accurate shooting difficult.

Also notice the floor of the truck. It is only partially covered by some kind of metal, leaving the rest exposed. You can see light coming through the bottom.